

* Nadia Plesner's drawing Simple Living(2007) was inspired by the artist's reaction to mass media prioritizing between world matters and celebrity gossip. Sued by Louis Vuitton, Nadia Plesner fought to include references to status symbols in her art works, and was declared by a court in the Hague to be free to exhibit the drawing." With the courtesy of the artist.

The right to freedom of artistic expression and creativity

*

Lunchtime presentation of the 2013 UN Report:
“The Right to Freedom of Artistic Expression and Creativity”

By its author, Ms Farida Shaheed,
UN Special Rapporteur in the field of Cultural Rights

2nd October, European Parliament, Paul Henri Spaak Building,
Room P5B001 from 11.30 to 14.30

Organised by:

MEP Marie-Christine Vergiat (GUE//NL) and The “Arts, Human Rights and Social Justice (ARJ) Working Group of the European Civil Society Platform “Access to Culture”. A full list of the member organisations of ARJ is included on the back of the event programme.

ACCESS TO CULTURE

A fundamental right of all citizens