

The training program for a «dish washer career»

Raphael Weiss, course manager

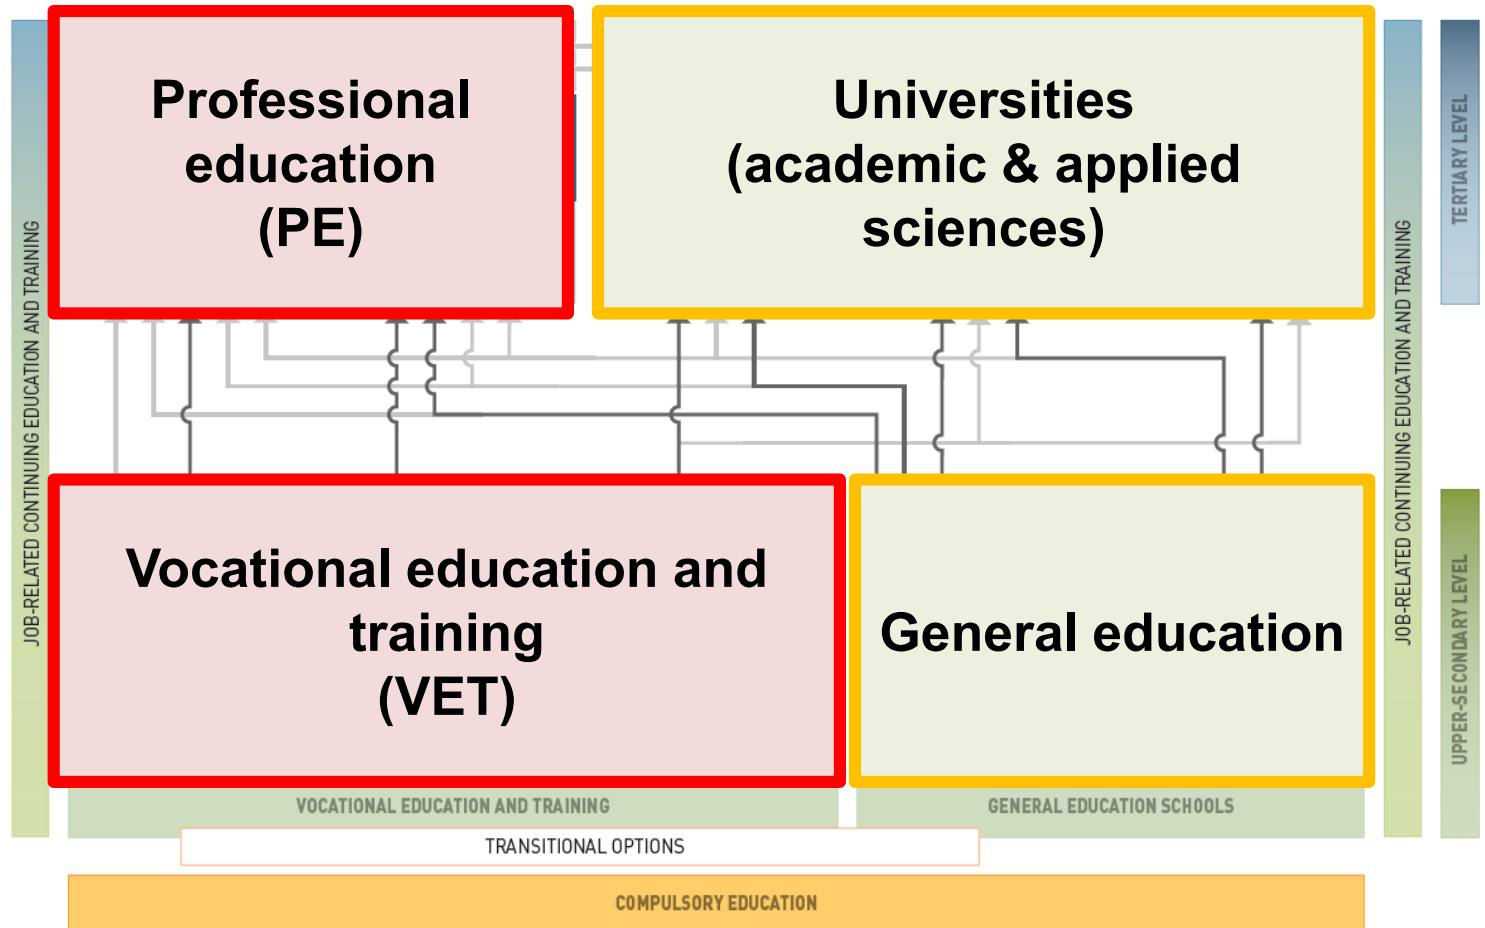

GIBZ

Shortened modular vocational education and training (VET) for kitchen employees

GIBZ

The Swiss education system

The Swiss education system

Background

Many people work in gastronomy without having completed a proper degree in this field.

A Federal Certificate VET allows them to

- gain additional skills
- earn higher wages
- reduce the risk of unemployment
- access new educational opportunities

→ Idea of a shortened modular vocational education and training for kitchen employees was born.

Target group

This vocational education and training program is especially designed for people

- who are adults
- who have already gained at least 5 years of practical experience in gastronomy
- with a migration background
- speaking German as a foreign language
- who are not used to going to school

Content

- 9 modules (e.g. „fruit and desserts“) / 50 training days at school within 14 months
+ apprenticeship at a host company
+ branch courses (in our training kitchen)
- Same qualification procedure like the common vocational education and training for kitchen employees (80 training days at school within 2 years)

States of origin 2018

15 students – 13 states of origin

Eritrea, Hungary, Egypt, Dominican Republic,
Italy, Algeria, Thailand, Sri Lanka, Nepal,
Somalia, Afghanistan, Morocco, Mexico

→ Shortened and modular vocational education and training for kitchen employees is a great example of the integrative performance of the VET system in Switzerland.

Abraham
Eseyas

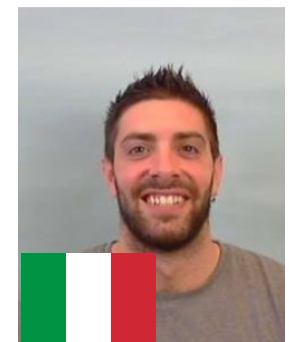

Csaba Elias

Elhawala Mostafa

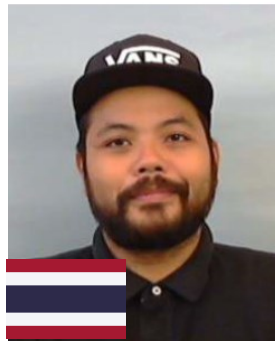

Hernandez Acosta
Gleny Yolain

Liggieri Alessio

Mouzaoui Madani

Phianchob Thanin

Thangarajah
Logatharan

Trichit Somnuk

Hagenbach Sara

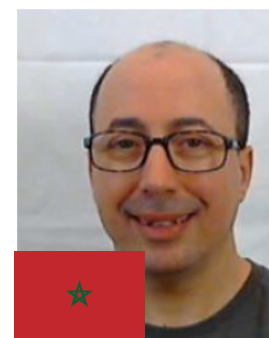

Hashim Abukar
Mohamed

Nazari Nassrullah

Packiyarajah
Pathmanathan

Zouhir Hicham

Khatri Resham
Bahadur

States of origin of today's class

Today's class

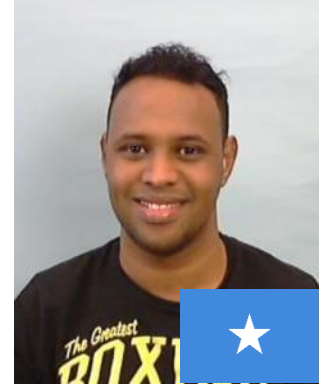

Bruno Candeias

Debas Girmay

Jassin Hamed

Hassan Kassim Osman

Besart Krasniqi

Ioannis Niotis

Mussa Siraj

Simon Teweldemedhn

Next: Visit class in room 3.408

- 10 minutes of teaching
- Your questions
- Interview with Mostafa Elhawala
- Visiting the new training kitchen
- Aperitif

Thank you for your attention.

