

Good evening/morning,

I recommend Afrofuturism be explicitly called out in the declaration as a method moving us forward. While Afrofuturism has as many definitions as it has definers, I am making this recommendation based on my working definition which encourages us to take everything we have learned from the past and are experiencing in the present to inform an aim to identify actions towards their manifestation. In alignment with this, I recommend we include algorithmic justice and elimination of racial bias in extended reality as well as artificial intelligence in our considerations of the future.

--

LaWana Richmond